

The VPs want to share that student attendance for the 2020-21 school year will comply with the WHRHS Attendance Policy. Students will lose course credit once their absences exceed policy limits. We realize the Spring "virtual learning" process was a new experience and students who missed multiple classes were still permitted to make up work and receive credit. However, this year, our attendance policy is again in effect. Students not present for in-person or "Zoom" lessons will be marked accordingly and such absences will count toward our attendance policy limits. These limits are listed in the Student Parent Handbook under the Attendance tab, which can be assessed via the following: <https://www.whrhs.org/whrhs/studenthandbook>

Thank you for your anticipated cooperation.
